*Parish Calendar

Each year at this time the parish staff puts together a tentative calendar for the next July through June block of time. That allows us to head off conflicts in programming and use of space. If you know of dates that your group(s) will need to use the parish facilities, please let us know this week, if possible. We are pretty good at anticipating most meetings, but it is an immense help in planning, if we have a calendar that is as complete and accurate as possible.

*Evening for Seniors/Retirees Monday June 19th

When we think of "vocation", we usually think of a younger person who is being called to priesthood, religious life, or at least some professional field. But, as has been mentioned many times this year by our Vocation Awareness Committee, we all have vocations, because we are baptized followers of Jesus, and he continues to call us to grow, to serve, to be open to using our gifts and talents.

On June 19th, after the 7 p.m. Mass, we will have a speaker, Dave Feighan, a professor of comparative religions, but himself a senior with a wealth of experience both in the church setting and otherwise. He will be helping us look at the question of responding to God's call as a senior and/or retiree. No, not in terms of

PICNIC

June 25, 2006
2:00-6:00 p.m.

Food! Fun! Community!

Games and more!

Bring your blankets...
your lawn chairs... to relax
and enjoy the day!

This year's picnic committee has formed necessary committees and have begun to make arrangements for the food items, music, and games. A sign-up sheet for bringing desserts and salads is up in the hallway to the Parish Center. Suggestions for how and when to bring food will be in envelopes by the sign-ups.

We encourage everyone this year to bring blankets and lawn chairs to sit on for a more picnic atmosphere. There will be some canopies and chairs for those who need to sit, but we will not be renting the large tents as in past years. Our goal is relaxation and gathering with friends.

We will also be asking for helpers with the games, balloons, set-up and clean-up. Please try to be generous with your time and talents for this year's affair!

Golf Outing — August 27, 1:00 p.m.

This year's annual golf outing will again be at Bruce Hills Golf Course. It will be a scramble beginning at 1:00 p.m. with prizes and dinner following golf. The cost stays the same; $55.00 for 18 rounds of golf, deluxe buffet dinner, and prizes. Registrations begin the first week of June. Register early...last year had more golfers than we could accommodate...so please consider registering soon. The registration flyers will be by the poster in the hallway going into the parish center and in the parish bulletin. Questions? Call the parish office at 586.781.9010.

The Wounded Heart

*If only the heart was right
we could give so much more.
But, the heart is often empty.
It is often cold and unwelcoming.
It is often hard and unyielding.
It is often weighed down
with worry.
It is often sad and lonely.
It is often in darkness.
It is often wounded.
And it is sometimes broken.
We have to heal the wounds
of the heart
in order to be able to love.*

*Lord, Touch our hearts and heal them,
so that we may be able to bear the fruits of love. Amen*

“Love one another,
as I have loved you.”

In every nation, the people who love are doing the work of God. No one country is better than another. We are called to love each other regardless of which nation we call home.

The Jews had always believed that they were the chosen people, and that Gentiles (people who were not Jewish) were less worthy and less human. It took the miracle of the Holy Spirit being showered on the Jews and Gentiles alike for Peter to realize that being the chosen people did not mean being the superior people. It still took a while for Jews to accept Gentiles as equals in this new community of believers.

It is easy to say we are all equal; much harder to actually live that belief.

This week, how can you show your love for someone who rubs you the wrong way, or someone you do not consider a friend?

“I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: ‘We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men (peoples) are created equal. And if America is to be a great nation, this must become true...’

When we let freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that day when all of God’s children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual, “Free at last! Thank God Almighty, we are free at last!”

A Family Perspective by Bud Ozar

Today, Jesus challenges us to be a loving family, to “love one another as I have loved you.” Jesus asks us to “lay down our life” (our time, our attention, our opinions) for each other. This is the sacrament of family life, when God is visible in our love for one another.

Blood Drive Thursday, June 22 1:00-7:00 p.m.

SS. John & Paul will once again sponsor an American Red Cross blood drive on Thursday, June 22 from 1:00 – 7:00 PM. Each summer, blood banks deal with a change in the blood supply as travel takes people away from school and work where they often participate in blood drives. As people take a break from work and school to enjoy vacation time, making a blood donation is sometimes the furthest thing from their minds.

Please mark your calendar now and plan on donating at our upcoming blood drive. Consistent donation will ensure the

You (or someone you know) may need occasional assistance in order to remain living at home on your own. If you are in need of someone to do small home repairs, run errands, provide transportation, light housekeeping or a friendly phone call, please let us know! We have volunteers who are waiting to be called to offer their assistance. Please follow the steps outlined below in requesting the help you need and we will do our best to honor your request. Church vocations (though nothing is impossible!), but in general. The committee will be putting it on a flyer: "Is your senior status or retirement "Gold"ing or "Rust"ing or somewhere in-between?"

It should prove to be a very stimulating and enjoyable evening of reflection, shared conversation, support and faith-building. Please mark your calendars for that Monday evening, June 19th. Come to the Mass, if you can, and then stay for this evening for seniors/retirees.

Parish Picnic June 25th

If you haven't already done so, please mark your calendars for Sunday June 25th, 2-6 p.m. as well. Our annual parish picnic will take place on the parish grounds with food, drink, karaoke, games, and much more. Since that is also the Sunday closest to the feast of SS. John and Paul, we will celebrate our namesakes' feast on that day. If you are interested in helping with set-up, food, children games and the like, see the bulletin board for sign up.

Summer Bible School July 17-21

Parents of grade school and pre-schoolers: we need to see your interest in participating in a Summer Bible School. Plans are in process for our "Summer Son Shine" vacation Bible program. The theme this year will be "Fiesta". Volunteers to help as catechist aides, with refreshments, monitors, and the like are still needed. Please contact our director of faith formation, Linda Bauer, to help. Summer Son Shine takes place the week of July 17-21, in the mornings.

Catholic Services Appeal

Elsewhere we have printed a graph of where we stand thus far in the 2006 annual appeal. Thank you to all who have responded. A second, "reminder" mailing will be going out this week to those who haven't yet responded. I want to especially "appeal" to those parish members who are more sporadic in donating on Sundays. The C.S.A. is the best way to help the parish, since each dollar directly goes to the parish 100%, either paying off the mandatory amount or coming back for parish use. A gift to this year's C.S.A. is an excellent way to fill in some of those gaps in donating and join the other parish members in active support of all we do.

Once again, your generosity has allowed the parish to surpass the mandatory amount, so everything now comes back to the parish for its own use. But for me the amount of money is not the key. Yes, the parish needs and appreciates generous gifts. But if we could increase the participation rate to 60%, I know we will always do well in the appeal. If you have not yet responded, please do in the next couple of weeks, so we can wrap up another successful C.S.A. for the parish. Thank you.

 "Teaching Masses"

Each year on the feast of Corpus Christi I review how we as a parish have been celebrating the Eucharist. I call these Masses "Teaching Masses," and use them to highlight the meaning of various things we do, what the Church intends by structuring the Mass as it does, and how we might more actively participate in the liturgy. For the next few weeks I will be writing about aspects of how we celebrate the Mass, as a way to lead into the feast of Corpus Christi, which is on the weekend of June 18th/19th.

Singing and responding as a community. It makes a huge difference if we all participate in the songs and in the spoken responses. Visitors pick up immediately from such participation whether a community really believes in what it is doing in liturgy. But it is not simply singing and praying. We need to be attentive to doing it as a common body. When done well, our responses have a unity that doesn't single out any particular voice, but every voice contributes. As a presider with a microphone on, I know I have to get much better at reducing my volume. Even as I write this I am making a resolution to be more attentive to that. Cantors as well need to be more careful, because their voice can overly dominate on the microphone in places that are for the entire community's response.

It is also dis-uniting when someone refuses to sing or respond, thereby setting himself or herself off from the rest of the community. At communion, for example, the Church's directives call for a hymn to accompany the receiving of communion, from the time the first person has received (usually the presider) till the last person has received. Only after that do we enter a period of personal, silent prayer. We have deliberately chosen communion hymns that have easy to memorize refrains, which we have repeated several weeks in a row. I know that we will have crossed a threshold in our common singing and responses, if and when our communion hymns are sung by most of us and the cantor's voice can sing the verses and not just the cantor can be heard singing the refrain!

It is dis-uniting as well when someone hurries the responses or slows them down, giving the sense of an individual response only. I see this quite a bit in the spoken responses. Often one or more will respond quickly and hurriedly, with no regard for praying the prayer together with the rest of the people. Another might go especially slowly, almost as if trying to slow everyone down, but having the end result of calling attention to their own response only. The next few times you participate in Mass be attentive to how you and others respond. What a powerful witness of worship when we do this together, in sync, all participating.

As to singing, the most common negatives I hear are "I can't/don't sing," "Don't know that hymn," "Too hard to sing it." But it is an interesting fact that one does not have to be a good singer to contribute to the overall song. As long as a number of people know the melody and sing it out, the rest of us can blend in as best we can. If we do, the end result is a beautiful unity of voice that is quite remarkable. In a group the size of a Mass (150-500), even those of us off-tone and a bit stumbling contribute to the overall beauty of the assembly's singing. Of course, if we know ourselves to not singing on key, we shouldn't belt it out loudly! But we should always sing.

Parents—dads pay attention—you become an example to your children by how you verbally participate in the Eucharist. They pick up very quickly whether you are there to “do a duty” or whether it is a conscious, faith experience for you. Also, it means that our children need to learn the responses. Go through them with your children, starting from a very young age. The sign of the cross, the times for “Amen,” the words of the Gloria, “Thanks be to God” and “Alleluia” and “Praise to You, Lord Jesus Christ,” the Creed, “Lord, hear our prayer,” the words of the Sanctus (“Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of power and might...”), the memorial acclamations, the Our Father and Lamb of God—we need to help our children know these by heart so they can participate fully in the responses at Mass. Our hymnals have all these responses beginning at #287. You can always put the ribbon in that position for your child and have them follow along.

It takes conscious work, discipline really, to unite as a body of Christ in song and spoken prayer. The more we do so at SS. John and Paul, the more the worship reflects what the Church fully intends. We all need to be attentive to this and do our part to make it happen.

Let’s end on a Scripture quote: “In this love: not that we have loved God, but that God loved us and sent his Son as expiation for our sins.” Not that we have loved God but that God has first loved us. What a great thing to keep in mind.
